

OLD SOLDIERS PASSING AWAY

Ninety Names a Day Are Dropped From the Pension Rolls.

THIS MEANS AN ARMY OF DEATHS EVERY YEAR

This Number Will Largely Increase During the Coming Five Years.

BY RALPH M. WHITESIDE.

WASHINGTON, July 16.—About 90 names a day are dropped from the pension rolls. This average is equivalent to about 2,500 deaths a month, or about 30,000 annually, among federal survivors of the Civil war.

The old soldiers of both armies are vanishing rapidly. Just how many survive will not be known until the completion of the thirtieth census, and can only be approximated now. The law providing for the taking of the census of 1910 stipulated that there should be included a tabulation of the number of Union and Confederate soldiers and sailors living. The census of 1900 contained no such tabulation.

Number of Union Soldiers.

The most generally accepted estimate of the total number of "individuals" serving in the Union army and navy during the Civil war is 2,313,365. This estimate was prepared by Major General Ainsworth, assistant general of the army, fourteen years ago, and is the one toward which pension officials and others turn for data relative to the size of the Union forces in the war. But it was only an estimate. The records showed that the total number of enlistments from the various states and territories during the war under President Lincoln's various calls, aggregated 2,778,304. But of this number there were 105,963 enlistments of soldiers and marines, leaving 2,672,341 enlistments credited to the army alone, exclusive of 16,422 men who were serving in the regular army. It is estimated that of these 2,672,341, there were 512,293 re-enlistments, which, when subtracted, leaves the estimate of individual volunteer soldiers in the war 2,160,048. There were enough re-enlistments in the navy to bring the actual number of individuals in the navy down to 54,417, making the number serving in the war on the Union side 2,214,465. This is the only official estimate of the number and how far it varies from the actual number can never be determined.

Some Interesting Figures.

Senator McCumber of the senate pension committee has just caused to be prepared an interesting table relative to the ages of soldiers at the time of enlistment. This table shows that of the total number of enlistments, aggregating 2,778,304 for the Union army and navy, the number of enlistments at various ages was as follows:

At 10 years and under.....	25
At 11 years and under.....	28
At 12 years and under.....	255
At 13 years and under.....	1,225
At 14 years and under.....	104,987
At 15 years and under.....	111,851
At 16 years and under.....	145,491
At 17 years and under.....	1,151,458
At 18 years and under.....	5,129,798
At 19 years and under.....	518,211
At 20 years and over.....	16,626
At 21 years and over.....	16,671

This table shows that over a million enlistments were of men under sixteen. The pension authorities, therefore, figure that the average age of pensioners of the Civil war is now about sixty-eight years.

Grim Reaper Is Busy.

Death certainly has been busy among the great these early days of the summer. Chief Justice Fuller and Senators Daniel and McEnery are the most notable of the men high in the affairs of the nation who have been taken. Of these the death of Chief Justice Fuller will perhaps have the most important bearing on the affairs of the country. If Justice Moody takes advantage of the permission granted him by his illness to retire, this will make three vacancies in the highest court in the land to be filled by President Taft before the court convenes in the fall. Upon the matter who are to be appointed depend the settlement of some of the gravest questions passed upon by the court in many years. In the absence of the president and most of the other statesmen whose opinions are worth consideration any suggestion of names to fill these vacancies is the merest guess-work, and it has been too hot to do any serious guessing. It is safe to say though that the president will in all human probability appoint men who will be inclined to take his view on questions which are to come before the court in the fall. President Taft has as wide and intimate acquaintances among the lawyers of the country of supreme court size as any man in the United States and will need little advice in making his suggestions. Of the two senators who have joined the great majority, that of Senator McEnery will alone affect the vote of the senate, and that only on tariff matters. The Louisiana senator always has been a protectionist. This was perfectly understood in Louisiana when he was first elected. His successor may or may not share his views on tariff matters. The successor of Senator Daniel will in all probability vote as he would have done.

Polygamy, rampant and of a most dangerous form, among the seals of one of Uncle Sam's choicest for-producing properties, the Pribilof Islands, is causing the department of commerce and labor grave trouble for it is endeavoring to kill all but 1,000 of the male seals on the islands. And what caused the query was the fact that the members of the Camp Fire Club of America, of which former President Roosevelt is an honorary member, are engaged in a lively controversy with Secretary Nagel and his department over what they allege to be the wanton slaughter of the seals. They want the killing stopped, and the president of the organization, Prof. William T. Hornaday, superintendent of the Bronx zoo, even threatens to ask a congressional investigation of Secretary Nagel's action.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Salt Lake City, July 12. Please answer the following questions in Sunday's issue: 1. Is Maude Adams, the actress, the wife of Frohman? 2. Give the new, modern definition of "Socialism," and oblige. OLD SUBSCRIBER.

No. 1. Well, no. There are so many different definitions of the new, modern Socialism, that no form of language would fit the case. King, Utah, July 11. Please answer in next Sunday's issue of The Tribune how many states there are in the Union, and oblige a subscriber. JOHN C. RILEY.

Forty-six, with Arizona and New Mexico on the way; they will be in when they adopt constitutions, satisfactory in form, and the president issues his proclamation admitting them. Then there will be forty-eight states. Sunnyside, Utah, July 12. Will you please answer in next Sunday's "Question and Answer" department in what states and territories, if any, can girls between 13 and 14 years of age marry? J. R. BUTLER.

We don't know of any state or territory which fixes a minimum age limit for girls to marry. Salt Lake City, July 14. Did Mark Hanna go on the stump for McKinley before McKinley was first elected president of the United States? A SUBSCRIBER.

Mark Hanna did not take the stump in McKinley's first campaign. He gave a brief speaking tour, however, in 1900.

Hagerman, Ida., July 11.

If a man has used his homestead right, can he take up more land under the dry farm act? A SUBSCRIBER.

One who has made five years' proof on a homestead entry of 160 acres of land is not entitled to make an entry under the Smoot act. A party, however, who lost, relinquished or abandoned a homestead entry prior to February 8, 1908, and received no consideration for the abandonment or relinquishment of that entry, upon making proper showing as to those facts, will be allowed to make another entry under the Smoot act, if he is otherwise qualified.

Mercur, July 13.

Will you kindly answer the following questions in your Sunday paper: 1. Can a citizen who voted at the last election, and whose name appears on the official register for the last election, be deprived of his vote at a school election, because the county clerk has omitted his name from the list sent to the board of trustees for the school election? 2. Would it invalidate the election in any way if the said trustees or judges of election refused to allow such voter to cast his vote? 3. Would it invalidate the election in any way if there was enough of such votes to change the result of the election? 4. Was it not the duty of the judges to swear these votes?

If you will answer these questions you confer a great favor on a good many citizens who think they have been unjustly deprived of their vote. Very respectfully yours, ALONZO DYKMAN.

No. 1. No. 2. No. 3. No. 4. Yes.
